

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[050] A golf ball including a composition having an unsaturated polymer, a cross-linking agent, and a peptizer, where the peptizer is a non-metal salt of an organosulfur compound. The composition can be incorporated into the golf ball's core, intermediate layers, and cover layers, and can provide optimal performance and durability properties. The golf balls incorporating the composition are easy to manufacture.